

INTER-CHURCH MOVEMENT IS VANCE'S WORK

Nashville/Treacher First to Conceive, Plan to Raise Third of a Billion.

Dr. James I. Vance.
(N. E. A. Staff Special.)
Nashville, Tenn., May 13.—The raising of a third of a billion dollars for interchurch work is the indirect product of a Nashville preacher's brain. Early in 1918 Dr. James I. Vance, minister of the First Presbyterian church here, took a cue from the united welfare work in the war. The result: Interchurch world movement!

Dr. Vance called the first interchurch conference to meet in New York, Dec. 17, 1918. It was he who presided over that first meeting and delivered the only set speech that was made during the conference, which was made up of 200 representatives of denominational boards from the United States and Canada.

Named First Committee.
It was Dr. Vance who appointed the first committee of 20 out of which grew the intricate machinery of the interchurch movement.

"I think the interchurch movement is the greatest movement that has ever been launched in the history of the Christian church," Dr. Vance said, after studying returns of the late drive for a third of a billion dollars for interchurch work.

"It is not a super-church, but functions through existing denominations. It does not teach the question of doctrine, but is an effort to coordinate and unify the activities of evangelical churches to secure resources of life and money adequate to the task of world evangelization."

Holds Many Positions.
Besides being pastor of the largest church in Nashville, he is president of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, South; chairman of the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches of America, a member of several college boards and author of nearly a score of books. He was chaplain with the American forces in France and went with them into Germany. His son was a captain in the Wilkes division.

Dr. Vance was born in the Tennessee mountains, direct descendant of the first governor of the state. In 25 years he has held two pastorates, Nashville, and for 10 years was minister of the largest Dutch Reformed church in America, at Newark, N. J. He was elected moderator of the General church in 1914, and was the church delegate at the peace conference in Paris.

WENNERBERG CLUB OFFERS EVENING OF SONG AT COLLEGE

On Friday evening the Wennerberg chorus of Augustana college will give its annual home concert in the college chapel as a number of this year's lyceum course. The club completed its annual tour about a month ago, and from press comments throughout the states of Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado the club this year equals if not exceeds the standard of former years.

Miss Mildred Nelson, pianist, and Miss Hulda Peterson, violinist, are the soloists with the club, and a very entertaining evening is promised.

Professor L. W. Kling is director of the chorus.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

CAME TO ME. COFFEE TO HAVE EYES TREATED.

Miss Emma Kinsender of Pulaski came to Dr. Coffee to have her eyes treated. Her eyes had been crossed since childhood. The treatment was perfectly successful. She will spend a few days visiting friends before she returns home.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW MEN MAKE CAMPAIGN

The Trinity parish branch of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew held its regular bi-monthly meeting at Trinity parish house last evening. Mr. James Murdoch, field representative of the national organization, continued his discussion of the brotherhood and instructions to the men. At the next meeting, which will be held two weeks from last night, the men will decide whether or not they wish to make their temporary organization permanent and become affiliated with the national body.

The brotherhood is conducting a church attendance campaign for the 10-45 o'clock service on the last three Sundays in May, the 16th, 23rd and 30th. Cards have been printed and distributed and every effort will be made to swell the attendance on these days.
